

June 19, 2019

Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern:

As the project manager for Gray Construction on the Weber Metals 60k project, I hired Michael e. Stern in mid-2016 to document our construction project via time lapse video. Speaking on behalf of Gray Construction, our whole team was thrilled with Michael time-lapse videos and his vision to tell our story of the 60k Press Expansion project.

From day one, our project faced many challenges and delays, but Michael was able to make the construction look effortless through his expertise. Michael's never ending search for the "perfect shot" is the reason that Weber Metals & Gray have such beautiful videos of the 60k Press Expansion Project to share with our friends, family, and future customers.

The Weber Metals team was also impressed with Michaels' work and hired him to stay on-site for additional phases of equipment installation, after Gray's role was completed.

As the Construction Manager for Weber Metals Inc., Moritz Schwartzmann worked with Michael to capture the installation of the world's largest pull down press. Moritz gives his strongest recommendation based on Michael's unrivaled expertise, solution based approach to overcome the issues that develop daily on a construction site, and the world class time lapse videos that he provides to his clientele.

The time-lapse videos that Michael created of the 60k project are being used by both Weber Metals & Gray Construction marketing teams to showcase the remarkable construction project, and Weber Metals ability to serve more customers. We truly appreciate Michael's daily efforts & focus on keeping his clients happy.

Cody Neal

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Cody Neal'.

Gray Construction
Project Manager
60k Press Expansion Project

Moritz Schwartzmann

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Moritz Schwartzmann'.

Weber Metals
Construction Manager
60k Press Expansion Project